I am writing this job reference letter to recommend Nic Jomolca for an engineering position. He has proven to be reliable, willing to work whatever hours required to get jobs done, and able to learn and adapt to new responsibilities very well. He has been very proactive in looking for jobs that need attention, and his bright and outgoing personality has made him a pleasure to work with and will be a fine addition to any workplace. If you are looking for a candidate who is hardworking and dependable, I highly encourage you to consider Nic for the role.
